Report on Rangoli Competition

Rangoli competition at Vignan's Institute of Management and Technology was organized on 11th January 2018. Rangoli is a traditional Indian art form that involves creating beautiful patterns on the ground using colored rice, sand, or other materials. Rangoli celebrations at VMTW College are a great way for students to showcase their creativity and artistic skills.

They are also a way for students to learn about and appreciate Indian culture. Rangoli celebrations at VMTW are typically held in the college courtyard or quadrangle. The students gather together to create the Rangoli patterns. They use a variety of colored rice and sand to create their designs.

The Rangoli patterns are often based on traditional Indian motifs, such as flowers, animals, and geometric shapes. The students often compete with each other to create the most beautiful and intricate Rangoli patterns.

Students have formed groups and participated in this competition. The judges selected the winners and runners based on their representation. Rangoli celebrations are a beautiful and meaningful tradition that can be enjoyed by people of all ages. They are a great way to celebrate special occasions and learn about Indian culture.
