A Report on Guest Lecture on "Gender Sensitization's Significance in Education"

Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering have organized one-day Seminar on 06/03/2019 for students and faculty.

Topic: Gender Sensitization significance in education

Resource Person: Mrs. K. Mary Suseela, Assistant professor in Joginapally B R Engineering College

Venue: VMTW Seminar Hall

Time: 10:00 AM to 1:00 PM

Participants: B. Tech II year Students & Faculty

Coordinators: M. Hemalatha, Assistant Professor of ECE

Aim: The aim is to construct a culture where individuals are aware of gender issues and actively work towards gender equality.

The programme in VMTW is organized to create awareness for the students about gender equality and also about the issues women are facing in society, as well as how the situations in society were addressed by the speaker. The speaker focused on the many facets related to public life in politics, boardrooms, media, science, and technology.

The speaker also said that gender equality in society is not a women's issue; it is a human and social issue. The government has to focus on gender sensitization in educational institutions so that the current generation gets awareness and knows about the importance of gender equality, and people in society need to be open-minded and rational in their thoughts and actions. The professors of educational institutions need to develop gender sensitivity in students and a gender friendly environment on campus. In the session, around 220 students from the II year have participated.

Outcome: In educational institutions teachers play major role in creating

A Report on a Guest Lecture on "The Myths and Reality That Surround Global Warming"

Department of Basic Science & Humanities has organized one-day Seminar on 10th April 2019 for students.

Topic: "The myths and reality that surrounds Global Warming"

Resource Person: Y.Madhu, Assistant Professor at Avanathi Engineering College.

Venue: VMTW Seminar Hall

Time: 01:30 PM to 03:30 PM

Participants: B. Tech I year Students

Coordinators: K.Satish, Assistant Professor of BSH

Aim: To demonstrate that human activity—in particular, increased emissions of green house gases, primarily CO₂ is to blame for global warming.

VMTW has organized a session to create awareness regarding myths and reality that are causing global warming, and the resource person has covered issues like the level of work the scientists are doing to analyze the climatic changes over the last 30 years.

He also focused on the impact of natural and anthropogenic factors and spoke about the responsibilities of developed and developing nations to control GHGs to avoid global warming and also spoke about rising of average temperature, habitats, rising seas are the impacts of global warming. The whole session was very interesting, and around 190 students participated.

Outcome: Students will gain awareness regarding the myths that surround the globe and also gain knowledge about scientific methods used for measuring greenhouse gases.
