ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF VIGNANS INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT AND TECHNOLOGY FOR WOMEN has initiated an Eminent Alumni TALK by distinguished alumni members from industry, R&D and academia. There are many alumni members who are doing exceptionally well in the fields of academia, research, industries, entrepreneurship and other areas. This alumni talk ensures mutual benefit of the students as well as the alumni members. Through this interaction, the alumni get a scope to share their practical experiences. Moreover, they get a glimpse of the future generation of our Institute. On the other hand, this lecture reconnects the alumni with their college and gives them a fantastic scope to give back to their alma mater. The students get an opportunity to clear their doubts regarding any of the topics from the alumni members during these lecture series. This makes their learning experience more comprehensive. Initially, the lecture is being organized in person. We are planning to make these lectures in series through video-conferencing; so that real-time communication between the alumni (especially from abroad) and students can be made possible. This video-conferencing will also save time and allow more and more number of students to communicate with our distinguished alumni.

APURUPA AMPERAYANI

Ph. D Student at Arizona State University- Tempe, AZ

Alumnus of B. Tech Batch: 2009-2013

Profile by her.

I am Apurupa Amperayani pursuing PhD from Arizona State University- Tempe. My PhD is researching large- and small-scale sedimentary structures associated with sediment fans on Mars. At the large-scale, I have investigated the detailed geomorphologies of the sediment fan at the landing site of the European Space Agency's exomars rover. At the small-scale, I am lucky to be involved with the Curiosity mission on Mars where I am investigating sedimentary structures photographed by the rover's camera, 'Mastcam', and am also involved with day-to-day rover operations.

I really enjoy being a PhD student. With events such as pub quizzes, brunches, and Friday socials hosted by the Department, I quickly became integrated within the PhD community and am now a proud member of both the Gradsoc and Fribes committees.

I have Masters in Geology from the University of St. Andrews and, through internships at the Open University and Western University (Canada), I was able to explore the planetary side of geology through remote sensing of Mars, fieldwork of analogue sites on Earth, and rover operations.

Summary

On 23rd July, 2022, VMTW's notable alumni, Ms. Apurupa Amperayani Ph. D Student at Arizona State University graced everyone virtually with her brilliant talk on ML. An algorithm designed to scan a doctor's free-form e-notes and identify patterns in a patient's cardiovascular history is making waves in medicine. Instead of a physician digging through multiple health records to arrive at a sound diagnosis, redundancy is now reduced with computers making an analysis based on available information. The seminar was really helpful and gave a new perspective to every student.

Summary

Data science helps to build the prediction model for decision making through data mining techniques. Data Scientists require more time and effort in algorithm selection and data preparation for obtaining more effective results. At the present, a number of techniques are available for the prediction purpose through supervised learning and unsupervised learning which are based on manual processes. This session was proposed all about automation of the prediction process for supervised learning, using prediction type selection methods with the data cleaning process through computing the missing value. It has been explained clearly by examples with experimental analysis. This proposed automation methodology makes competitive prediction performance with less effort than the non-automated process. The audience enjoyed the session and interacted with the speaker who cleared all their doubts. The webinar was a great success and we hope eminent speakers like A. Kavya will always be there to motivate and guide us.
