Report:

On September 16th, 2019, Vignan's Institute of Management and Technology for Women organized a seminar on Girl Child Education in India. The event aimed to shed light on the current status of girl child education in the country and explore effective strategies to promote and empower girls through education. The keynote speaker for the event was Prof. M L Sai Kumar, an esteemed authority in the field of education and women's empowerment.

Keynote Speech:

Prof. M L Sai Kumar delivered an inspiring keynote speech that emphasized the significance of girl child education in India. He highlighted the immense potential and talent possessed by girls and stressed the need to provide them with equal opportunities to pursue education. Prof. Sai Kumar discussed the existing challenges and barriers faced by girls in accessing education, including social, cultural, and economic factors. He called for collaborative efforts between educational institutions, government agencies, and society at large to overcome these challenges and create an enabling environment for girls' education.

Conclusion:

The seminar on Girl Child Education in India conducted at Vignan's Institute of Management and Technology for Women was a significant step towards addressing the issues and challenges faced by girls in accessing education. The event provided a platform for meaningful discussions, raising awareness, and formulating actionable strategies to promote girl child education. It is imperative for educational institutions, policymakers, and society to work together to create an inclusive and empowering environment that ensures equal opportunities for all girls to receive quality education. Total There are 110 students are Participated in the program.

REPORT:

On 19th November, 2019, the Computer Science and Engineering (CSE) department at Vignan's Institute of Management and Technology for Women (VMTW) organized a program titled "Thinking about Sexual Violence." The objective of this program was to raise awareness and foster discussions about the critical issue of sexual violence in our society.

Guest Speaker's Address:

Dr.T. Nagaveni, Associate Director, HRDC delivered an insightful address, shedding light on the various aspects of sexual violence and its impact on individuals and society. She emphasized the importance of acknowledging and addressing this issue in order to create a safer and more inclusive environment for everyone. Mrs. Indrani shared her expertise and experiences, providing valuable insights into the causes, consequences, and preventive measures related to sexual violence.

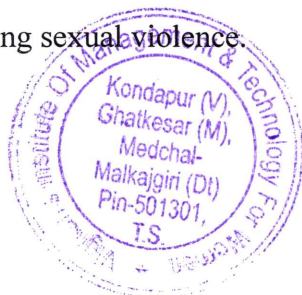

As a result of the program, several action steps and recommendations were put forth to address sexual violence effectively. These include:

Educational Initiatives: Integrating comprehensive and age-appropriate education on consent, gender equality, and healthy relationships into school and college curricula.

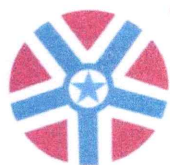

Support Systems: Strengthening support systems such as helplines, counseling services, and survivor support networks, both within educational institutions and the wider community.

Sensitization Programs: Conducting regular sensitization programs for students, faculty, and staff to promote understanding, empathy, and respectful behavior.

Collaborative Efforts: Encouraging collaboration between educational institutions, NGOs, law enforcement agencies, and the government to develop comprehensive policies, guidelines, and programs aimed at preventing sexual violence.

Conclusion:

The program "Thinking about Sexual Violence" conducted by the CSE department at VMTW on November 19th, 2019, proved to be a significant step towards addressing the issue of sexual violence. The informative session led by Dr.T. Nagaveni, Associate Director, HRDC and the subsequent discussions provided a platform for introspection, awareness, and dialogue. The program highlighted the importance of collective responsibility in creating a society free from sexual violence and emphasized the need for ongoing efforts to educate, empower, and support individuals. There are 98 participants into the program.

REPORT:

The program was organized by the department of CSE and speech by guest G.Anjaneyulu. All of us are more familiar and comfortable with the idea that at birth a baby is born either as a boy or girl. We do not spend enough time reflecting on the process of becoming a man or a woman, something that is heavily influenced by our culture. This topic will help in instilling a positive attitude in students towards gender non-confirming people (those who are born with ambiguous genitals; those whose internal sense of gender doesn't fit the sex they were assigned at birth or even those who express their gender contrary to what others expect.

This topic has several stories about discrimination. Students bring to the class very different media reports on the topic of discrimination faced by women athletes in India and initiate a discussion on the positive and negative aspects of how the matter was reported. It is likely that most of them are still struggling to articulate their own feelings and experiences and communicate, even with their peers, and they might choose to remain silent in the class. If, however they choose to speak, the teacher should create a friendly atmosphere. Students should be aware that the Supreme Court of India has affirmed that people have the right to determine their own gender identity. It is important therefore that all of us respect and affirm each person's identity. By giving many examples and anecdotes students come forward to take part in the discussion. Total 110 students participated in the program.
